Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	6	YES
	Claims	1-5, 7-18	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	6	YES
	Claims	1-5, 7-18	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-18	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

The present report makes reference to the following documents:

D1: US-A-4379911

D2: DE-A-3724868

D3: EP-A-0568865.

1.0 D1 discloses an amino triazine condensation product produced by reacting a "melamine compound" with oxocarboxylic acid derivatives (see D1, claim 1 and column 2, lines 20-37). It is clear from document D1 that, in claim 1 of D1, the expression "melamine compound" encompasses melamine per se as well as melamine-formaldehyde products (for example see D1, claim 2). The subject matter of the present claims 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 therefore lacks novelty over said document (PCT Article 33(2)). D1 also discloses a method for the production of amino triazine condensation products, which method contains all the essential features of the present claims 8, 10, 14 and 16 (see the examples in D1). The subject matter of the present claims 8-10, 14 and 16 therefore also

Box No. V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement lacks novelty over D1. The amino triazine condensation products according to document D1 are used as hardeners for epoxy resins. The subject matter of the present claim 15 therefore also lacks novelty.

- 2.0 It is not generally accepted that, as maintained by the applicant, salts are not derivatives in the normal meaning of the word. Example 9 of document D2 discloses the reaction of a derivative of glyoxylic acid (sodium salt) with melamine and then with glyoxyl.

The subject matter of the present claims 1, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14-18 therefore lacks novelty over D1.

- 3.0 For similar reasons the subject matter of D3 is prejudicial to the novelty of the present claims 1, 7, 8, 10, 14 and 16 (see claim 2 and example 1 in D3).

- 4.0 None of the cited documents discloses the reaction of an amino triazine with an oxocarboxylic acid derivative as specified in the present claim 6. The subject matter of the present claim 6 is therefore novel over said documents. Likewise, the oxocarboxylic acid derivative is not rendered obvious by the prior art citations. The subject matter of the present claim 6 therefore involves an inventive step.
